PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am a dedicated aspiring developer, leaning towards creating website designs through craft-centered software programs. I am currently improving and honing my frontend development skills and passionate about bridging two of my interests together between designing and coding. I am eager, fast learning, and genuinely curious to absorb new technology advancements.

PROJECTS

RynLabs

- Functional e-commerce website developed together with a custom, open source agent system to automate log in, user registering and inventory workflow using Blade and PHP.

BiyaHero

- Interactive static website, made for efficient student navigation along the vicinity of Kamuning. Initially developed as a project for STS subject. Built purely with HTML5, CSS3, and Javascript.
